

The role of governmental and non-governmental organizations in support of abused children in the proceedings mohammadbagher armat*,

Abstract Among the various age groups, children are considered as the most vulnerable and most influential in the scene Crime and delinquency are considered to be due to reasons such as physical weakness, mental imbalance, the lack of environmental care under the title "susceptible or potentially vulnerable victims" is mentioned in the justice system There are laws and regulations in Iran that show special attention to the psychological and emotional integrity of children In these laws, the offensive to the mental and emotional integrity of children is also considered a crime and for That punishment is foreseen. On the other hand, governmental and nongovernmental organizations that have been victimized by various groups including children, they can motivate the movements to defend these groups, and some of them The range of access to pay for rights and services for victimized children has expanded and filled with color Their role in the cycle of the restoration of justice system can be strengthened, such institutions can be used to support child victims. At various stages of the hearing, with examples of urgent medical assistance and psychological counseling, Legal advice and judicial assistance and victimization of government and non-state resources and support Kidnapped children by educational associations and the use of specific institutions and the conveyance of rights and creation The necessary facilities for complaints and acceptance of active participation in the proceedings were used.

Keywords : Key words: children, victimization, prosecution, government agency, non-governmental organization

Islamic Azad University, Rasht Branch - Thesis Database
دانشگاه آزاد اسلامی، واحد رشت - سامانه بانک اطلاعات پایان نامه ها