

Site Criteria Analysis of a Cultural - Religious Spaces in Rasht ( Case Study: the region 2 Rasht City )

hasan ensandoust*,

To provide desirable Cultural - Religious Spaces services, users should observe some criteria in the positioning and establishment in place. a) General criteria such as compatibility, comfort, performance, utility, health and safety. b) Specific criteria such as user establishment conditions in environment (including suitable and compatible adjacent and adjacency constraints) and basic criteria and specifications of allocated places (such as useful functions, covered population and breakdown parts). If these criteria are achieved full applications, cultural and religious backgrounds must be able to play their role . Hence, to ensure compliance with conditions and criteria for deployment in place, in this study qualitative and quantitative assessment of the applications . In this study initial data in connection with the questions and the objectives of the study is based on the existing pattern recognition applications, cultural and religious and neighboring applications with it through the organizational documents , field operations, imaging collected by the scientific method descriptive and analytical - to analyze the data obtained . Results show that the number of 45 user cultural and religious and rely on the mosque in the form of Husseiniya in the two towns in the Rasht Valley to an area of 17 thousand square meters that there are some dating back to the years 1204 (Sagharisazan) chanted mosque . within the framework of the user around mosques with regard to the Rasht city centre - around and through the economy and religion and market ( mosque ) has taken shape , business , and many have been brick skeleton .

Keywords : Key words: Analysis, Cultural - Religious Spaces, user, criteria, Rasht City

Islamic Azad University, Rasht Branch - Thesis Database
دانشگاه آزاد اسلامی واحد رشت - سامانه بانک اطلاعات پایان نامه ها