

The role of use cyberspace and mother's life satisfaction in explaining student's female responsibility and aggression

Zahra Porsajjad*, Dr. Samereh Asadi Majare,

The purpose of this study was to determine the role of use cyberspace and life satisfaction of mothers in explaining the responsibility and agility of female students. The research method is descriptive, which is done in the form of a correlation scheme. The statistical population of this study included all female students of mummies and their mothers in Bandar Anzali city in the academic year of 2007-2012. A sample of 120 people was ed using multistage cluster sampling. Students responded to Bass and Perry's questionnaire (1992), Kurdlo's accountability (1393), and mothers responded to Diner et al. (1985) and Young's Internet Addiction (1988). The obtained data were analyzed using descriptive and inferential statistics using Pearson correlation and focal coefficient. The results of this study showed that there is a negative relationship between the use of cyberspace by mothers with responsibility in students (P
