

Analysis of Reverse Migration and its Impact on Social, Economic Development of Rural Areas Case Study of Lafmjan Village, Lahijan County

Shayzer Jahangiri Pashaki*,

The phenomenon of reverse migration has grown dramatically over the last decade, resulting in dramatic social and social change in rural areas. In this study, the author intends to investigate the economic and social impacts of this phenomenon in Lahmijan County, Lahijan. Economic and Social Development of Lafmjan Village. For completing the data and collecting data field and library method and for sampling Morgan method is used. The results show that Lafmjanjan village in Lahijan city is one of the areas that has been attracted by many people in recent years. More than half of the immigrants, according to direct observations, are people who have left their village in the past to work and return to the village at retirement. The results also show that people who migrated to the village themselves As a member of this rural community, they have good relations with their neighbors They participate in rural affairs and contribute well to elections and rural income-making. Some of these people have contributed to the development and development of some industries or services in the village.. Keywords: Migration, Reverse Migration, Village, Economic Development, Social Development, Malfemjan Village.

Keywords : Migration, Reverse Migration, Village, Economic Development, Social Development, Malfemjan Village.

Islamic Azad University, Rasht Branch - Thesis Database
دانشگاه آزاد اسلامی، واحد رشت - سامانه بانک اطلاعات پایان نامه ها